MATRIMONIAL.

RASSENFOSS-LYONS.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Rassenfoss and Mr. Albert Lyons was solemnized at the Catholic Church Wednesday morning.

The ceremony was beautiful and impressive and was said by the Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn.

The church was handsomely decorated with palms and ferns and the altar was lighted with tall cathedral candles which made a lovely setting for the bridal party.

The bride was given in marriage by her father Mr. Geo. Rassenfoss and preceding them down the aisle the maid of honor walked alone. Miss Mary Frances Woods who wore a lovely toilet of pink, rose flower hat and carried a huge bouquet of Killarney roses with shower of valley lilies.

The bride on the arm of her father was lovely in a toilet of white cloth and wore a white picture hat. Her bouquet was of brides roses with shower of valley lilies.

The ushers who formed a semi-circle around the altar during the ceremony were Mr. Edward Rassenfoss, Mr. Frank Groesche, Mr. Frank Roche, Mr. George Rassenfoss, Jr.

Mr. George Browner was the groom's only attendant. The wedding music was played by Miss Mary Rassenfoss, sister of the bride who also sang several songs during the assembling of the guests.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rassenfoss and is a charming young girl with many friends who wish her much happiness during her wedded life.

The groom is one of our most popular and successful young business men and is the son of Mrs. Maria Lyons.

The wedding gifts were many and handsome, among them was a beautifully furnished home on Winchester Street, a gift from the groom's mother.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was given at the home of the bride on High Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyons left at noon for an extended wedding journey in the East.

DAVIS—CRAIG.

The Christian Church was the scene Wednesday evening of one of the most brilliant weddings that was ever solemnized in the Bluegrass. The contracting parties were Mr. Henry Craig, of Georgetown, and Miss Katherine Davis.

The church, which is one of the handsomest in the State, was decorated in stately palms and ferns. The altar and baptistry was banked high almost to the ceiling with the same pretty green with a border around the railing of graceful bunches of Easter lilies which made a lovely background for the wedding party which formed a semi-circle in front.

The organ loft was also banked with palms and ferns and during the assembling of the guests Miss Betsy Ray played a number of beautiful and appropriate pieces and Mrs. Fannie-belle Sutherland sang sweetly "The Arbor of Love" and "I Love You Truly."

The ring ceremony was used and was most gracefully and impressively said by the pastor Rev. W. E. Ellis.

The bridal party entered the church in the following manner to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. From the right came Mr. Withers Davis and Mr. Ethelbert Roberts, of Cincinnati and simultaneously from the left Miss Elizabeth Steele and Miss Katherine Headley, of Lexington. Following these were Mr. John Davis and Mr. Robert Downing on the right and Miss Frances Brown of Lexington and Miss Medora Sparks, of St. Louis.

Next were Mr. Buford Hall and Mr. E. P. Moore, of Georgetown, Miss Nancy Griffith and Miss Sue Ford Offutt, of Georgetown. The maids were all gowned in pink chiffon cloth over pink meseline with trimming of crystal and brilliants. Following the bride's maids came the lovely matron of honor, Mrs. Withers Davis, alone. Her gown was a wonderful creation of lavender charmeuse elaborately trimmed in duchess lace with train. Her bouquet was deep pink Killarney roses with showers of lavender sweet peas. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Katherine Headley, who wore a dainty gown of pink over white and wore a short veil of pink tulle. The maids all carried bouquets of Killarney roses with showers of sweet peas.

The stately bride on the arm of her father, Mr. Joseph Davis, came last and they were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Oscar Carriek, of Georgetown.

The bridal party as it formed around the altar for the ceremony made a picture of loveliness which will long be remembered by the large number of friends who were present.

The bride, who is an only daughter, is a beautiful and stately blonde, never looked sweeter than dressed in her gorgeous wedding gown which was of ivory duchess satin trimmed in duchess lace with court train. Her veil was arranged in Dutch fashion with a knot of valley lilies on one side and caught on the other with a diamond sunburst, gift of her mother.

The groom is a very popular business man of Georgetown and is very handsome and attractive, being a member of one of Scott county's most prominent families. He has a handsome home ready for his bride upon their return from an extended wedding journey in the East.

The gifts numbered in the hundreds and were very handsome. The gifts of the bride's father and mother was a handsome case of silver of the Versailles pattern. The groom's mother gave an exquisite silver tea service with tray and center basket. Other handsome presents were silver pitchers, sandwich trays, baskets, cut glass vases and mahogany.

The reception at the home of the bride which followed the ceremony at the church was given for the bridal party and immediate members of the two families, was a lovely affair.

The house was a bower of lovely blooming flowers, potted plants and ferns, the colors being green and white except in the dining room where the dainty pink and green were the colors.

Solga, of Louisville served the wedding supper which was very elaborate and served in several delicious courses. The bridal party was seated at a large round table where covers were laid for twenty. This table was covered with an exquisite Venetian lace cover and had for a centerpiece a low mound of Killarney roses and at each plate were silver candles hooded in pink shades. The place cards were cupids with brighttoasts engraved in gold.

The bank of Georgetown of which the groom is an officer, presented a handsome silver loving cup and from this many bright and happy toasts were drunk to the success and future happiness of the bride and groom.

The emblems were drawn and the fortunate ones won; Miss Offutt, the ring; Mrs. Downing, the needle; Mrs. Withers Davis, the dime, and Miss Browning, the thimble.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Governor James B. McCreary will pitch the first ball when the initial game of the season of the Blue Grass League is played May 1 at Richmond between Richmond and Frankfort. Being a citizen of both Frankfort and Richmond, and the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth, Governor McCreary feels that he can open the Blue Grass League season without being a partisan to any place, and the fans know that his support of the game will mean much to its success in Kentucky.

At a special meeting of the directors of the Mayville Amusement Company, Glenn McCann, the manager of the Mayville team of the Blue Grass League, tendered his resignation from the managerial position. The directors then elected James Carmony, of last year's team to succeed McCann.

President William Neal has called a meeting of the directors of the Blue Grass League to meet in Richmond today. Preparations for the opening of the season will be planned. President J. W. Bacon of the Paris team will attend the meeting.
